AREA OF EXPERTISE

Bonnie Halley is a senior vice president and licensed associate broker with Colliers, specializing in the sale and leasing of industrial, office and land properties, with demonstrated expertise representing landlords, tenants, buyers and sellers.

She partners with Brian Gleason, senior vice president; Melissa Marks, senior associate; and Danny Schuster, associate, to serve clients across the West Valley submarkets of metropolitan Phoenix.

Bonnie brings more than 30 years of experience providing business solutions and real estate expertise to her clients. Her comprehensive services include market and financial feasibility studies, site selection, location analysis, demographic reports, targeted marketing, transaction negotiations, and contract support.

She is sharply focused on her clients' success and ensures they have the essential information to make informed real estate decisions. To assist property owners and investors, she provides financial comparative analyses for various strategies, such as buy, sell, hold and refinance.

As a strategic partner, Bonnie keeps her clients' interests in the forefront. Her goals are to achieve the best results and maximize their financial returns, while saving time by streamlining the process.

Bonnie's clients describe their experience buying, selling or leasing real estate as a much smoother and less stressful process than expected, due to her being highly responsive and keeping them fully informed.

PROFESSIONAL ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Represents owners with over 2.2 million square feet of industrial and office assets
- 2008 - Earned the Certified Commercial Investment Member (CCIM) designation, for leaders who have a proven record of success and demonstrated mastery of financial, market and investment analysis

BUSINESS BACKGROUND

Prior to joining Colliers, Bonnie was a senior vice president and associate broker with Phoenix West Commercial in Goodyear. Previously, she was an associate broker with Don Bennett & Associates in Goodyear and Re/Max Commercial in Scottsdale.

During a banking career spanning over 20 years, Bonnie managed one of the largest offices for a regional bank. She also served as a commercial lender and portfolio manager. In 1996, Bonnie helped form a de novo bank in Scottsdale. Her experience includes working on behalf of a national bank regulatory agency, investigating failed banks.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

Bonnie has served her community as an officer and member of several boards of directors, including the Scottsdale Area Chamber of Commerce and Central Arizona Chapter of CCIM.

She is active in her church and loves spending time with family and friends in the Northern Arizona pines.
