AREA OF EXPERTISE

Craig Hurvitz is vice president, market research at Colliers International | Chicago and leads the Industrial Advisory Group's market research initiative. Craig manages and maintains the industrial properties database, which includes property sales and leases, tenant information and comparable transactions. He has a deep understanding of the Chicago-area industrial real estate market and provides in-depth analyses, reports and market trends that are referenced by a diverse group of clients including landlords, appraisers and developers. Craig is considered an expert in the field and is frequently featured in industry newspapers and publications.

BUSINESS AND EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND

Craig holds more than 10 years of industry experience having served as the director of research for both NAI Hiffman, and most recently Newmark Grubb Knight Frank. In this role, he oversaw the local research departments and provided comprehensive reports on market statistics in the Chicago and regional commercial real estate markets.

He began his real estate career as director of marketing for Rosemont-based Epic Realty Partners, now affiliated with Transwestern.
