AREA OF EXPERTISE

A Senior Vice President with Colliers International | Chicago, Jonathon represents corporate office users with their real estate requirements across the Chicago metro area. He partners with his clients to develop and implement creative real estate plans that strengthen and promote their overall business interests by reducing costs, minimizing occupancy risks and maximizing flexibility and workplace efficiency.

Jonathon is a member of the suburban office leasing team, working on behalf of institutional and regional investors to construct value-creating strategies through the acquisition, leasing and disposition of office space throughout suburban Chicago.

A background in asset and property management has provided Jonathon with a fundamental understanding of how commercial real estate is analyzed by landlords throughout the investment cycle, from acquisition through marketing and leasing to disposition. This background also allows Jonathon to provide corporate occupiers with valuable insight relating to the goals of the landlords, and ultimately allows him to mitigate leasing risk and identify future opportunities for his clients.
