Riley Vaught

Area of Expertise

Riley is working with the Vaught | Hurrell Industrial Team with a focus on Capital Markets transactions. In this role, he will be providing his expertise in facilitating the sale and equity fundraising for assets within the dynamic industrial sector across the Southeast.

Business Experience

Riley began his real estate career as an intern at the Colliers office in Detroit, MI where he helped manage and prospect for the Global Automotive Real Estate portfolio while also building out a Customer Relation Management system for the Book | Jett team. Prior to joining Colliers in Tampa, FL, he also worked as an intern for Merrill Lynch in a wealth management role researching and analyzing market analytics to determine which equities are positioned best to optimize returns with the changes to the market and consumer preferences. Additionally, as an intern to the CEO for United Wholesale Mortgage he gathered analytics from all aspects of the company to create a senior leadership report so that the c-suite executives have encompassing data to make proper decisions. Since joining the Vaught | Hurrell Industrial Team, Riley served as a capital markets analyst, providing brokerage support, valuation analysis, and market research for the southeast industrial markets. Now he supports the team in an associate brokerage role.

Educational background

Riley earned a B.S. in Economics with a minor in Entrepreneurship from The University of Michigan.
