

Rita ATLASSI

Lead Sustainability & Project Manager

Rita holds an Engineering degree from INSA Lyon and a Master in Environment & Environmental Health from the University of Montreal. After an international and multisectoral career path (real estate, industry, NGO) she joins Colliers in 2018.

She ensures the continuous improvement of our environmental performance, and intervenes in the context of eco-responsible workspaces projects, respectful of environment, health and comfort of users.

Rita also supports the management of fit out projects, from the design phase to completion.
