AREA OF EXPERTISE

Ronna Larsen is the research manager for the Suburban Office Advisory Group of Colliers International | Chicago, bringing 20 years of real estate experience primarily related to database management and in-depth market research. In this role, she specializes in the collection and analysis of market and economic related statistics and is responsible for the preparation of the quarterly market reports for the overall suburban office market and individual submarkets.

Ronna works alongside the firm's office tenant and landlord representation brokers to provide customized reporting and analysis to their clients. She provides detailed market knowledge through the collection, organization and distribution of primary data including lease comparables, tracking tenants in the market, large-block availabilities as well as creating drive-time and demographic analysis and competitive building skyline reports

BUSINESS AND EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND

Prior to joining Colliers, Ronna spent 10 years at CoStar managing the Chicago tenant division. During her tenure, she was responsible for the overall comprehensiveness and quality of a database of 50,000 tenants.

PROFESSIONAL ACCOMPLISHMENTS

In 2013, Ronna completed over 25 hours of online coursework to achieve the Commercial Property Research Certification (CPRC). CPRC offers a professional development path to increase strategic and tactical expertise in research, knowledge of the real estate industry and capabilities with the required tools.
