AREA OF EXPERTISE

Todd represents Industrial landlords and tenants in the Dayton market. He started his career in commercial real estate in 2012 and joined Colliers International in 2014. He has learned what it takes to achieve the most success for his clients. A few of the necessities are attention to detail, approaching each project with an enthusiastic energy, truthfulness at all times and an exceptional work ethic.

As a lifelong Dayton resident, Todd knows the market and the people very well. Strong relationships and market knowledge are two areas that require constant attention. Colliers Research provides Todd up to date information on the overall market, but it is through his relationships and every day practice that he discerns the micro-trends in the Dayton region.

Whether he is advising a landlord or a tenant, Todd is confident he can provide the best information as they go through the decision making process, resulting in the most favorable transaction terms.
